

NEWS RELEASE

September 3, 2008
Mariemont City Schools

Mariemont High School Juniors Write Winning Essays

Mariemont High School students were selected as prize winners in 2008 Ayn Rand Institute (ARI) Anthem essay contest. Lizzy Laboda-Lyman and Reed Gerberick were named finalists in this writing competition and McKenzie Miller was a semi-finalist. All three students are currently juniors and the contest was based on their submissions from last spring.

The annual ARI essay contest has world-wide reach and received over 13,000 essays during their 2008 competition.

Photo: Mariemont juniors, McKenzie Miller, Reed Gerberick and Lizzy Laboda-Lyman wrote winning essays for the 2008 Ayn Rand Institute Anthem essay contest.

Betsy Porst, Communications Coordinator
6743 Chestnut St., Cincinnati, Ohio 45227
bporst@mariemontschools.org